

OUT OF THE SACK AND HIT THE TRAIL - IT'S 4-H BREAKFAST TIME

SERVING WILL start at 5:30 a.m. on Saturday morning as 11 4-H clubs in the southeastern Tulare county area stage their 15th annual Chuckwagon breakfast in Smith's Towne Square, Porterville. Photos give an idea of what to expect: Susan

Fisher and Rebecca Fuller, of Prairie Center 4-H, and Teresa Alley, of Pleasant View, get the 10,000 eggs ready that will be served; Jeanette Winfree and Greg Notley, Terra Bella 4-H, along with Davalynn Chamberlain, of Burton, sharpen up their pancaking flipping technique; (12,000 pancakes will be served) John Parsons, Ducor, Glenn Craig, Prairie Center, and Bob Fallert, Pleasant View, can't decide whether their friend will appear in the Hog Calling contest or as sausage, 600 pounds of which will be available; Kathy Baggarly, Rockford, Kathy Worsham, Ducor, and Kristen Bedford, Success Valley, will be serving orange juice - 150 gallons of it; Pam Bowker and Becky Rippee, Vandalia, and Randy Gibson,

Rockford get ready to mix the hotcake batter. All-in-all, 4-H club members and leaders are shooting for a new record of 6,000 breakfasts, with serving to continue until 9:30 a.m. (Farm Tribune photos)

FAURE NAMED TO NATIONAL BOARD

CYRILLE FAURE, of Porterville, has been appointed to the National Cattle Industry Advisory committee on Foot-and-Mouth disease, it was announced this week by Congressman Bob Mathias. The committee acts as an advisor to the U.S. Secretary of Agriculture on matters relating to foot-and-mouth disease. Faure was a National Outstanding Young Farmer in 1958, he is chairman of the Porterville Veterans' Memorial district board, he is one of the original directors of the Porterville fair, he is a past president of the Tulare County Cattlemen's association and past secretary of the California Polled Hereford association, and has served on the state Vocational Agriculture Advisory committee.

Good Food, Entertainment Ready To Go

POTERVILLE — Good food and plenty of it, entertainment, and fastmoving "chow lines" are all arranged for when 11 southeastern Tulare county 4-H clubs serve their 15th annual Chuckwagon breakfast in Smith's Town Square Saturday morning, 5:30 a.m. until 9:30 a.m.

Tickets are available from 4-H club members, at $1.00 for adults and 75 cents for children under 12 years of age, or can be purchased at the breakfast site.

Funds raised by the event are used by the participating clubs for their club programs and community projects. Involved are the 4-H clubs of Ducor, Burton, Lindsay, Pleasant View, Prairie Center, Rockford, Terra Bella, Vandalia, Westfield and the Urbaneers.

MAID OF COTTON for Tulare county through 1971 is Joanne Margaret Pelous, right, of Lindsay; her alternate is Sandra Sue Sturgeon, left, of Tulare. The two girls were selected at 12th annual Maid of Cotton dinner-dance, sponsored by the Tulare County Cotton Wives at the Visalia Lodge of Elks the evening of October 3. Others in final competition were: Frances Arlene Lambert, of Porterville; Lorraine Alice Micheli, of Dinuba; and Carol Lynn Padham, of Visalia. Miss Pelous will now compete for the title of California Maid of Cotton, with state winner to be entered in national competition. (Farm Tribune photos)

"GET ORGANIZED, YOU'RE SURROUNDED"

VISALIA — "Get Organized, You're Surrounded," is the advice that citrus growers will hear at a meeting of the Citrus Commodity section of the Tulare County Farm Bureau, Monday evening, October 12, in the Farm Bureau Assembly hall, Visalia, starting at 7:30 p.m.

Speaker will be Warren Wegis, manager of the Ventura County Citrus Growers' committee, a group that has already faced the United Farm Workers' Organizing committee.

Wegis, a third-generation Californian who was born in Kern county, will tell how Ventura county citrus growers met this UFWOC threat, then will answer questions.

Ron Michaelis, of Porterville, chairman of the County Farm Bureau's citrus section, says that all citrus growers are invited to attend the meeting. He says that he hopes initial steps toward organization of the southern San Joaquin Valley Citrus industry will be taken following the October 12 meeting, which is being co-sponsored by the Labor Service committee of the Tulare County Farm Bureau, headed by Bob Bream, of Lindsay.

Wegis will present much of the same material that he covered in a recent meeting of the Citrus Advisory Committee of the California Farm Bureau Federation at Santa Paula.

He will report not only on his personal experiences with UFWOC, but will also draw on a background that includes six years as manager of the Kern County Farm Bureau, five years as manager of the Agriculture department of the California state chamber of commerce, and 11 years as a personnel manager and safety director in Kern and Ventura counties.

Also speaking briefly at the October 12 meeting will be Tom Richardson, from the Berkeley office of the California Farm Bureau Federation, who will outline provisions of the new Farm Bureau Labor service program.

In commenting on the meeting, Michaelis said, "We citrus growers must face the reality that sooner or later we can expect a move in our area by UFWOC. If we are to deal with this organization on an equitable basis, we must be informed and organized."

"Let me emphasize that all citrus growers, not just Farm Bureau members, are urged to attend the October 12 meeting. It is essential that we growers work toward some form of strong organization in the field of labor relations."

THE REAL REVOLUTION

Today's far-out young revolutionists today cry out in rebellion against the Establishment, against their parents' generation, against a world they had no part in making. They don't know what they would or could do about it, but they want to tear it down and then see what happens.

They haven't an idea what true revolution is all about.

As Governor Ronald Reagan told an American Legion convention in Sacramento:

"They talk about revolution. Our generation presided over the greatest social and economic revolution seen by man. We've opened doors that had been barred for 100 years".

The governor cited unbelievable gains in the science of medicine and other areas; gains without which many of the young dissidents probably wouldn't be in college, might not be here at all.

Few of us feel with Robert Browning's Pippa that "all's right with the world", but burning down the house to get rid of a mouse hardly is the intelligent way to make it so.

STUDENTS WORK IN RECREATION

PORTERVILLE — Ten Porterville College students and two from Porterville High School have been employed by the Porterville School district to serve as leaders for after-school recreation programs to be held on the district's seven elementary school campuses.

The students have been organized into four teams, and will direct a program that will include individual, dual, small group and team recreational activities, involving games and sports.

The programs will be held two afternoons a week on each of the campuses from 3:15 to 4:30 o'clock, and from 9:30 a.m. until noon each Saturday on the Olive street campus. Students from all elementary schools are welcome at the Saturday morning program at Olive street.

Team members and school assignments are: Daniel Ruff, leader; Sheila Valero and Carol Holloway, Doyle school, Monday and Wednesday, Roche Avenue school Tuesday and Thursday.

Genell Hothersall, leader; Jim Fergus and Beverly Smith, Vandalia school Monday and Wednesday, West Putnam school Tuesday and Thursday.

Rosalee Sullivan, leader; Marianne Encinas and William Taylor, Bellevue school Monday and Wednesday,

Cotton Moving In County; Other Crops Maturing

VISALIA — Cotton harvest is getting underway in Tulare county as fields are maturing and bolls are opening, according to weekly report from the office of Elvin O. Mankins, Tulare county agricultural commissioner. Defoliation is also underway in producing areas.

Concerning other farm commodities, Mankins states that: Milo harvest is continuing, with good yields reported; almonds and walnuts are being harvested; pomegranates are being picked and packed; Calmeria, Emperor and Ribier grapes are moving, also wine varieties; olive harvest has begun.

Some early varieties of avocados are being picked; a few Valencia oranges are still being picked; fall potatoes are being irrigated; and a few fall tomatoes are being packed.

In the cattle country, rangelands at both low and high elevations are the driest in many years.

Westfield school Tuesday and Thursday.

Christopher Clark, leader; Ralph Rosten and Yolanda Martinez, Olive street school, Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday.

Students will be paid by the elementary district for leading the programs.

WOMAN AG. TEACHER AT EXETER HIGH

EXETER — Miss Barbara Nist, a graduate student at Cal Poly, is working as an intern teacher in the agriculture department of Exeter high school. Miss Nist, a native of Ohio, is working toward a masters degree and a full teaching credential in agricultural education. When she earns these she will be the fifth woman in California to qualify.

We Only Heard

BY BILL RODGERS

SEEMS THAT at least some of the pigeons that were thrown out of their home when the old Pioneer hotel was torn down have moved across the street to the old Masonic building. At least that's the signs we read on the city sidewalk.

WE READ other signs in downtown Porterville - deterioration! Main street is consistently dirty - and that's a problem of the city administration. Many Main Street store fronts are shabby - that's a problem of property owners. Main street at night is a mess - and that's a problem of the city; 22 street lights out between Morton and Olive, leaving only 37 on. We are not sure of the exact count because Main street is so dark at night it is difficult to see even the lights that are on. . . We are told by city officials that the reason Main street lights continue to go out and stay out is because the old wiring system is faulty and the city is short on money. We are told that lights on one side of the street will be turned back on through an improvement project that is being bid. But lights on the other side of the street that are out will stay out, and there is no reason to doubt that more lights will go out, and stay out while the city administration pleads poverty. . . To which we suggest that the No. 1 priority of the present city administration - in fact any city administration - is to take care of what the city already has, to maintain, repair, and replace as necessary what the city already owns. This applies to all city property - real estate, vehicles, mechanical equipment, service equipment, buildings. If there is only enough money available to do this, then that's all that gets done until the money situation can be improved. . . We could care less why the Main street lights are out. The fact is, they are out. Business people, everyone with even an ounce of pride in Porterville, should demand that the Main street light situation be straightened out, soon, immediately, pronto.

And until city "housekeeping" is taken care of, city councilmen would do well to get out of the clouds and onto the firm ground of reality.

REPORT OF the Scranton committee on campus unrest was about as predicted - there's something in it for everyone, regardless of point of view. There is nothing of much realistic value as to what should, could or can be done to cool it. There is no study in depth as to the deep down activation of campus unrest and violence. The committee could have written its report without visiting a campus or talking to anyone by simply studying news stories. As for fairness, the report plays the pros and cons about equally, but it is a superficial, obvious play. We sort of agree with S.I. Hayakawa, president of San Francisco State college, when he calls the report "a remarkably empty, pussyfooting document."

TO WHICH we might add, since we do not recall anyone else adding it, the pigs do not organize themselves into goon squads on their own volition, march onto a quiet campus, and stage an exhibition of police brutality. National Guard units do not activate themselves on their own volition, load their rifles, march onto a quiet campus and shoot down students. We know of not a single incident - anywhere - in which the cops or the Guard showed up on campus without reason and started trouble. When they arrive it is because they have been called. They have been called because trouble has already been started or appears imminent. And don't forget that when they do show, they represent you and me and everyone else who is an American citizen. Under pressure they may and they have made regrettable mistakes - but they have also handled many, many more situations adequately and intelligently.

ONE-VARIETY COTTON LAW HEARING SCHEDULED IN VISALIA WEDNESDAY

VISALIA — Public hearing on the One-Variety Cotton District act will be conducted by the California Assembly Committee on Agriculture in the Tulare County Agriculture building next Wednesday, October 14, starting at 9 a.m. The hearing is a continuation of a session held last April in Sacramento.

Assemblyman William M. Ketchum, (R-Paso Robles) chairman of the committee, stated that additional time was necessary in order to complete the testimony which the committee was unable to cover at the first hearing.

According to Ketchum, the study was instigated as a result of complaints waged by cotton growers from the northern and eastern areas of the eight-county district who claim that the practice sanctioned by law in breeding seed for the one variety cotton district has failed to produce strains of the Acala variety that might be suitable to differing regions within the district.

The One-Variety Cotton district was created to insure the growth of premium cotton which would best serve the growers within the district. Proponents of the act point out that since pure varieties are easily contaminated, growth of multiple varieties of cotton would make it impossible to grow premium cotton.

Under the provisions of the act, a grower is prohibited from planting, harvesting or ginning any variety of cotton other than the Acala variety derived from the one variety breeding program carried on by the United States Cotton Research station at Shafter. Included in the district are Kern, Madera, Fresno, Kings, Tulare, Merced, Stanislaus and San Joaquin counties.

In announcing the hearing, Ketchum stated the committee will continue to probe into the desirability of maintaining the present legal status of the one-variety cotton district program, the adoption of different varieties for different regions, and permission to plant experimental acreage of other cotton varieties.

ELECTION JAMBOREE SET FOR OCTOBER 22

VANDALIA — National 4-H Week is October 4 to 10, and Vandalia's 4-H Club members are joining with California's 55,000 4-H members in observing this week. "We Care" is the theme for this year.

Community Pride program is one means for members to improve their community. Vandalia's activities for 1970 have included planting of flowers at Vandalia school, the Porterville City hall and the Barn Theatre park.

Members distributed posters for the "Pride in Porterville" clean-up week, and held a work day at the Porterville State Hospital camp grounds cleaning up the campfire area and the trails.

Coupons were collected at each meeting and then donated to the State hospital to redecorate a ward, and a Christmas basket was presented to the Half-Way house during the holidays.

Nelson to compete for cash and trophies in ax throwing, choker setting, working power saw, hot saw, double hand bucking, hand chopping, jack and jill, and birling.

A substantial amount of prize money has been underwritten by the Western High Sierra association to bring in top performers. The competitive logging show will be handled by Martin Hedrick, of Grass Valley, a working logger, and himself a champion performer.

Claud Rouch, president of the Western High Sierra association, says that judges for the logging events will be Bud Lyman, former logger and mountain man but now chief of detectives in the office of the Tulare county sheriff; Glenn Duysen, of Terra Bella, from Sierra Forest products; Hank Abrahams, of the Mt. Whitney Logging company, and Bob Jacobs, a former lumberman, of Sequoia Crest.

Bill Rodgers, a city slicker from Porterville, will again be master of ceremonies for the event.

The two-hour Loggers' Olympics will get underway each day at 1 p.m. Food and drink concessions will be open on the site; the Western High Sierra association will give away a chain saw, and there are rumors of extra-curricular activities here and there along the middle fork of the Tule river, from the Great Western Divide on down.

Admission charge to the Loggers' Olympics will be $1.50 for adults; 50 cents for children, 14 years and under.

COWBELLE OF YEAR

Terra Bella, and high school at Porterville.

She and Oscar Klein were married in 1929 and established their home on the Klein ranch in the California Hot Springs country, where they now run cattle on some 5,500 acres. Their sons-in-law and daughters - Ronnie and Darlene Dilday and Duane and Delores Fitterer - also have homes on the ranch.

The Klein's grandchildren, Sherri, Ronnie and Terri Fitterer and Tina and Twila Dilday, represent the fifth generation of the family to live on the ranch, much of which was originally homesteaded by Oscar's grandfather, Bruno Klein.

Through the years Mrs. Klein has been active in the Ducor and the California Hot Springs Parents' clubs, also in other areas related to the Cow Belles and the cattle industry.

Others who have received Tulare County Cow Belle of the Year honors are: Mesdames Fred Gill, Exeter; C.L. Guthrie, and H.G. Vincent, Porterville; Wendell Travioli, Orosi; Ralph Gill, Edith Crook and Virgil Lowe, Porterville; Claude Paregian, Visalia; and Kenneth Rutherford, Porterville.

During the morning, entertainment will be provided by a hog calling contest, and pancake races, in charge of Claudia Manning, of Prairie Center, and Brad Caudill, of Lindsay, plus stage entertainment by members of various clubs, including an accordian duet by Diane and Linda Della and dances by Sandy and Randy Cardoza. Tim Munter, of Lindsay, will appear as the "Farmer Clown."

Members of participating clubs are trying to set a new breakfast record with a goal this year of 6,000 tickets sold. In 1956, the first year of the annual breakfast, 650 persons were served; in 1969 the figure reached 5,293.

Anticipating a record crowd, provisions have been made to serve 12,000 pancakes, 600 pounds of sausage, 10,000 eggs, 30 gallons of syrup, 300 gallons of coffee, 150 gallons of orange juice, and 10,800 butter patties.

Much of the food for the breakfast is donated, or obtained at cost.

There were 11.3 million new passenger cars registered last year in the United States.

GEORGE DeMEDEIROS, of Tulare, general manager of Dairyman's Cooperative Creamery association, has been named a member of the University of California Agricultural Advisory committee. He was appointed to the committee by U.C. President Charles J. Hitch, for a term of three years. DeMedeiros has been active in the dairy industry locally and statewide since becoming manager of Dairyman's Cooperative plant at Tulare in 1953. The Council acts as an advisory committee to the U.C. president on agriculture and related subjects. As a newly appointed member to the council, DeMedeiros joins 21 other industry and non-U.C. members, plus 22 University staff members.

GRAND NATIONAL OCT. 23 - NOV. 1

SAN FRANCISCO — Dates for the Twenty-sixth annual Grand National Livestock exposition at the San Francisco Cow Palace have been set for October 23 through November 1.

James Cavanaugh Will Speak At Duffy Dinner

POTERVILLE — Members of the Mental Health Services community will honor

Assemblyman Gordon Duffy at a dinner tomorrow evening, Friday, in Gang Sue's Lantern room, with speaker to be Dr. James Cavanaugh, assistant under secretary of the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Duffy is being honored for his "outstanding contributions in improving health care services in California."

Dinner will be served at 7:30 p.m.; a no-host social hour is set for 6:30 p.m. Tickets are $15.00, or $25.00 per couple; chairman is Mike Hamilton, 1942 North Maston, Porterville.

Entertainment will be provided by the Porterville State Hospital "Band Aides," directed by Stan Tice; invocation will be spoken by Father Joseph Farrington; benediction will be given by the Rev. Ragnar Kjeldahl; introductions will be made by William Grimm, executive director, C.S.P.T.; master of ceremonies will be Bill Rodgers.

Others working on the arrangements committee are: Bob Thompson, co-chairman; Ethel Prestage, Charles Tedder, and Will Hansen.

GET ACQUAINTED LUNCHEON WITH EV YOUNGER

POTERVILLE — A "Get Acquainted" luncheon for Ev Younger will be held Saturday at 1 p.m. in Gang Sue's Lantern room, with all interested persons invited to attend. Younger is a candidate for California attorney general.

Tickets, at $2.75, can be purchased at the door, or can be obtained from Loren Schmid, Jack Lucey, Bill Bennett, Barney Richardson, or Don Laux.

It is estimated that by 1990 the United States will have 165,000,000 drivers.

By John

We mentioned last week that your plants needed washing off to remove the cobwebs and brighten their appearance. We should also have added that this same treatment will likewise liven up husbands, teenagers, and other hangers on. It's best to be prepared for a speedy exit because the results are often instantaneous and in their newly awakened interest they may appear somewhat hostile.

Having awakened both your plants and your animal life you may be able to stimulate some interest in outdoor recreation such as hoeing, mowing, trimming and other fun sports. After all it will all too soon be cold, foggy and generally miserable outside and you should get the recruits out and enjoy it now.

After they have mowed the lawn you may sow rye seed to keep it green this winter. This is somewhat like sowing wild oats only less fun. You just take this seed and toss it helter skelter over your lawn. Next water well for a few days which lays the dust along with sprouting the grass.

After this project is finished you may hunt for the hidden treasure. This large sum of money is hidden somewhere and you may be the one to find it. We doubt it but then maybe you'll have a vision or something. Other visions may be found here on "E" Street north of Olive.

GOLD SEAL FOR CHARTER TO PLEASANT VIEW

PLEASANT VIEW - Presentation of a gold seal for the club charter highlighted September meeting of the Pleasant View 4-H club, held at the Woodville school. The seal was accepted by Bill Cornell, a past president of the club.

Pins were given during the meeting to members with 100 percent attendance; reports were following the ceremony. Other photos show scenes along the new route with the higher elevations of this road on the Great Western Divide in the Quaking Aspen country probably to be at their fall-coloring best this weekend. Among those participating in the road dedication were: Sonny Rouch, president, and John Lewis, past president of the Western High Sierra association; Ray Muller, Tulare county supervisor; Gus Suhre, who, as president of the Kern Valley chamber of commerce 30 years ago, officiated at opening of the Kernville-Johnsondale road;

OUR TOWN

By Ruth Loyd

Bill had another long talk with me. In fact he waxed vituperative. The gist of his remarks dealt with my using the same words too much. If I knew how to spell other words, I wouldn't be writing for pencils. But, I'll try. He promised to bestow on me a gratuity of some magnitude this coming Yuletide. I informed him that I would appreciate a motorcycle, with an air horn. No doubt he will come up with some more pencils!

I just wish Bill would be in a Barn play, and let me and the other thespians of the Barn write a critique on his performance. It would be just my luck to have him do an inimitable job, and then I would have to say something nice about him. No way!

Ann Frame Kieffer enjoys talking to other long-time residents of OUR TOWN about amusing incidences that happened years ago. One evening a dance was given at one of the local halls. Someone took a hunk of limburger cheese and carefully smeared it on the stair banister on the way up to the hall. At the top of the stairs friends peered at each other wondering who the offensive person could be. One man thought he had

THERE'S SOMETHING new coming up at the Porterville Barn theater - at least that's what Director Elizabeth Dobson tells us, and when Elizabeth tells us, we listen. New to the Barn is Shirley Tow, above, who will play the lead in "Goodbye My Fancy," Friday and Saturday nights, 8:15 o'clock and a 2:30 p.m. matinee, Sunday. And also new to the Barn is the type of production - a reading production, which Elizabeth says isn't like ordinary stage productions, in fact it isn't like ordinary reading productions, because action and movement and stage stuff goes along with the reading. Cast with Shirley are two leading men, Curt Barrows and John Liston.

stepped in something, and others examined their apparel for tell-tale evidence. Then it dawned upon everyone, and the dance broke up with everyone going home to wash their hands with strong soap.

Ann is a captivating person. She has been in the rest home quite awhile, but she keeps busy making dolls, playing the harmonica for friends and visiting others who love her. She is a joy to talk to and to know.

Obed Carr is another new friend I met at the Hacienda. He sits in his wheelchair near the door and welcomes visitors. He and Bernice Hutcheson were reminiscing about Jim McKinney, OUR TOWN'S bad boy, the other day, and they could remember incidents that were quite scary. Obed takes The Farm Tribune, so he and I have a thing going.

Lou and Charlie and Tanya Slaughter are leaving OUR TOWN for OUR MOUNTAINS. They are moving to Camp Nelson and are busy at the present getting their house ready for winter. Tanya will ride the school bus to Springville with about 18 other boys and girls. No smog up there . . . yet.

This is just a little note to Dolores Osti: Monache must be keeping you quite busy. Remember what you promised? All right for you.

Happiness is a dictionary and a thesaurus.
